59 YARROWDALE PRISONERS ARE IN SWITZERLAND

Quarantine Expires and Germany Sends Party Frontier

OTHER AMERICANS ARE DETAINED IN DENMARK

British Minister Unable to Arrange Transportation From Copenhagen

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, March 9.—A dispatch from Berlin says that the Americans and other neutrals who were on board the captured British steamer Yarrowdale, left Germany, Wednesday.

The Spanish, American and Brazilian Yarrowdale prisoners were sent from the prisoners camp at Brandenburg to Switzerland by way of Linden on Wednesday afternoon, according to a Berlin dispatch by Reuters by way of Amsterdam. Members of other neutral crews were sent home through various frontier towns. The dispatch says that the prisoners were released on the order of expiration of the quarantine imposed by the discovery of a case of spotted fever.

AMERICANS IN DENMARK.
Copenhagen, Thursday, March 8, via London, March 9.—The situation in regard to sending home the Americans who are here is unchanged. Dr. Eastman, professor of surgery in the Indianapolis University, together with other American doctors, called on the British minister in behalf of Americans connected with the Red Cross and many others. The minister said that at present no facilities were being granted for ships carrying passengers to avoid calling at Kirkwall and he regretted that he did not feel justified in telegraphing the British authority on the subject. He added that as soon as the situation changed he would communicate with Dr. Eastman.

FIFTY-NINE IN PARTY.
Berne, Switzerland, March 9, via Paris.—There are 59 of the men from the Yarrowdale in the party which has left Berlin for Switzerland.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BILL MAY BE VOTED UPON LATE TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, March 9.—After passing a number of minor bills this morning the house this afternoon had under consideration the Terrell bill for financial relief of cities and late in the day was expected to take up the Christian Science bill. The Shohi Cincinnati terminal bill was not of today's calendar.

Among the measures passed by the house this morning were the Hill bill, which has already passed the senate separating the Blue Sky department from the state banking department and creating a commissioner of securities at $4,000 a year. The house also passed a bill by Representative Mansfield, of Jefferson county giving chiefs of police and fire departments appeal from the local civil service commission to the probate court instead of the common pleas court and a measure by Representative Federman regarding registration of milk bottles in order to assist local boards of health in milk inspection and prevent stealing of milk bottles.

PRESIDENT LEGALLY MAY ARM SHIPS HE IS TOLD BY GREGORY

Washington, March 9.—Secretary Lansing and Attorney General Gregory have given President Wilson their opinion that he has legal authority to arm merchant ships for protection against submarines without awaiting congressional sanction and the president's decision as to what he will do was expected today or tomorrow.

The senate's modification of its rules to guard against another filibuster on the armed neutrality bill, had some officials to believe that the president would now call a special session of congress soon to pass on the neutrality measure.

DUTCH FRONTIER CLOSED.
London, March 9.—The closing of the Dutch-Belgian frontier by the German military authorities is reported in a central news dispatch from Amsterdam.

GERMAN OFFICER IS ARRESTED FOR PART PLOT OF VON IGEL

(Associated Press Telegram)
Los Angeles, Calif., March 9.—Captain Alfred Fritz said to be a German naval officer, was arrested at Hartwood, near here late last night by a special agent of the department of justice and held in the city jail on suspicion of felony. The authorities said he was wanted in connection with the alleged plot to destroy the Welland canal.

The arrest was made on orders from Washington. "What I know I cannot tell," was the only statement Fritz would make concerning charges made against him. He said he had been in the United States three years and recently had made a tour of Cuba. Federal agents here have been on the watch for Fritz for six months they said. They learned that he returned to California three days ago and that he arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. Several months ago he was here, it was alleged, under the name of "Piper" and worked for a time as a farm hand on the ranch of Frank S. Hart, a wealthy music dealer. His distinguished bearing is said to have impressed the Hart family in such fashion that when he returned yesterday he was taken into their homes as a guest.

No papers nor anything of incriminating nature have been found in Fritz's possession it is said. Emil Roedel, former German consular agent here, federal authorities said, has aided Fritz but whether simply because of his nationality or for other reasons was not stated.

INDICTED IN NEW YORK.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 9.—Alfred A. Fritz, arrested at Hartwood, Calif., last night, was indicted by a federal grand jury in this city on April 17, 1916, in an alleged conspiracy hatched in the United States to blow up the Welland canal.

Indictments were returned at the same time against Captain Franz von Papen, former military attaché of the German embassy, Wolf von Igel, his secretary; Captain Hans Lauscher, agent in America of the Krupp; Captain Boy-Ed, former German naval attaché; Franz Rintelen, a German agent; and Constantine Goyan, alias Giovanni Gonzales. With the possible exception of Covani, Fritz is the only one of the alleged conspirators now in this country. Von Papen was sent back to Germany, and Hans Tauscher and Wolf von Igel are returning to Germany with Count von Bernstorff. The whereabouts of Covani is not known.

Fritz, who was formerly manager in Hoboken of a German sailors' home, is alleged to have been one of five men who at the instance of Von Papen carried dynamite to Niagara Falls for the purpose of blowing up the canal. Tauscher was alleged to have supplied the explosive but was tried and acquitted of this charge. It was said at the federal district attorney's office arrangements would be made to have Fritz brought there.

PRESIDENT STILL CONFINED TO BED BY SEVERE COLD

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—President Wilson was still confined to his bed with a cold today and as a result the usual Friday cabinet meeting and all other engagements were cancelled. Although the president's condition was somewhat improved this morning, his physician advised that he remain in bed and see no callers.

FRENCH CLAIM VICTORY ALONG VERDUN FRONT

German Trenches For 1500 Yards Destroyed By Artillery Bombardment

BERLIN ADMITS FRENCH PENETRATED TRENCHES

Germans Succeed In Attack On Russians In Rumania —Take 600 Prisoners

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 9.—Intensive fighting in the Champagne region resulting favorably to the French, and the failure of a French attack at Hill 304 northwest of Verdun, are reported in today's official statements.

The Champagne attack, Paris declares, was brilliantly successful. It was aimed to reduce the salient near Maisons de Champagne created by a successful German attack in February. It resulted, says the Paris report in the destruction of German positions on a front of more than 500 yards and approximately from 600 to 800 yards in depth.

Berlin announces the penetration of German trenches in this attack but asserts the recovery of important dominating positions, contending however that the French retained possession of some of the ground their attack brought them.

A successful assault by the Germans on Russian positions along the Rumanian west front between the Tretus and Ustul is announced by German prisoners. A height and a strongly entrenched position were captured, together with more than 600 prisoners and several machine guns.

Ninety-one airplanes were lost by the entente last month as compared with a German loss of 24 machines, Berlin announces.

The Americans from crews of vessels captured by the German raider in the Atlantic brought to Germany on the steamer Yarrowdale were released and left Germany on Monday going to Switzerland, Berlin advises.

PERUVIAN PEOPLE LOSE CONFIDENCE IN PRESENT CABINET

(Associated Press Telegram)
Lima, Peru, March 9.—The political unrest which manifested itself on March 7 in the outbreak of serious disturbances in various parts of Peru is still strongly in evidence. President Prado yesterday declined to confer with a committee of the civil party, and today Javier Prado, president of the civil party, issued a manifesto against the present cabinet. The cabinet, the manifesto declares, has lost the confidence of the country and by remaining in office can only aggravate the situation and perhaps cause serious disaster.

Lima advices on Thursday reported one change in the Peruvian cabinet in the replacement of Jose Garcia Bedoya by Dr. Ezequiel Munoz, as minister of the interior. President Prado, it has been previously stated, had refused to accept the resignation of other cabinet members.

DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE BOOSTS MILK PRICE; FREIGHT CONGESTION

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 9.—The food situation today showed two new factors, both tending to raise prices. The dairymen's league, which virtually controls the sources of supply for this city and vicinity within a radius of several hundred miles, announced a schedule for the six months beginning April 1, which averages one and one-half cents a quart more than the corresponding months of last year. Further freight congestion was threatened by a strike of freight handlers of the New York Central railroad.

Officers of the big distributing companies here said they expected to meet within a few days to discuss the latest move of the milk producers. There is talk of resisting the increase on the ground that the dairymen's league is an illegal combination under the anti-trust laws. Five hundred of the freight handlers went out last night and several hundred more announced their intention of joining the strike today. The railroad company is arranging to put strike breakers to work under police protection.

WELLS PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

BRITISH PLEASED WITH SITUATION ON THE SOMME FRONT

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, March 8.—(Thursday, delayed by censor).—Further retirement of the German lines of the Somme river front in France and the arrival of the British army before Bagdad, in Mesopotamia, may be predicted as early events affecting the military situation, according to the views expressed by Major General Frederick B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, in his weekly talk with the Associated Press.

General Maurice said: During the past week on the western front the Germans have kept up a slow retirement until their new line extends approximately from Bucquoy to Bapaume, thereby accentuating the dangerous salient from which the enemy wishes to retire rather than risk meeting our offensive along that line.

In the east our cavalry is within twelve miles of Bagdad, which lies in a valley and is indefensible except along the river Diale, six miles away, where the Turks may make a stand and which point General Maude (commander of the British forces) may have reached by this time as our last news was sent March 6.

"This campaign is by no means an isolated action and the last where a series of operations have blasted the German plans. The Russians have been rapidly clearing Persia but on account of the physical difficulties of the country rather than the resistance of the Turks further advance may be slow."

CHURCH USHERS RESIGN; DISAGREE WITH PASTOR

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, March 9.—All the ushers of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church have resigned as a result of a disagreement with their pastor, the Rev. John Henry Jowett over the course to be followed in seating strangers. This church is crowded nearly every Sunday with visitors from outside the city, and Dr. Jowett backed by the session, has insisted that places left vacant by pewholders shall be held no longer than 11 a. m. Two weeks ago, after scoring some vacant pews, the pastor announced that if he found any more vacant seats he would read off the names of the pew holders. The ushers are all volunteers and many of them have served for 15 or 20 years.

NAVAL COMMITTEE TO INSPECT PACIFIC YARDS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—Members of the house naval committee including Chairman Padgett and Representative Butler, of Pennsylvania, were on their way today to the Pacific coast where they are seeking first hand information as to conditions in navy yards and other naval works. The itinerary includes San Diego, Los Angeles, Vallejo and other coast points. The committee members are making the trip in their unofficial capacity.

CARRANZA TROOPS FIND AMMUNITION HIDDEN BY VILLA

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chihuahua City, March 9.—A large quantity of ammunition hidden by Villa forces was found by the Carranza troops after the battle of Cuernavaca, according to an official report made public here today.

A prisoner captured by the Carranza forces during the battle revealed the hiding place of the ammunition in return for a pardon. The cache contained several thousand rifle cartridges and artillery shells. Reports from the Guerrero district of Western Chihuahua say the Villa forces have become badly disorganized because of the absence of Villa on his field and the lack of leaders in his absence.

Ammunition has been received from Mexico City by General Murguia, and 20,000 rounds were sent north to supply the Carranza troops in the field near Casas Grandes. Two thousand government troops from Sonora, including a large number of Yaqui Indians have reached Casas Grandes, having marched overland and from the interior of Sonora.

SALESMAN FOUND DEAD.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Lancaster, O., March 9.—Charles Hammack, 63, a traveling salesman for the Groves Fertilizer company of Cincinnati, was found dead in bed at his hotel here this morning. Yesterday he complained of not feeling well and told friends that his "race was about run."

ANOTHER MOVEMENT TO CHANGE DATE OF THE INAUGURATION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—Congress at its next session will be asked to pass a constitutional amendment changing the inaugural day from March 4 to the last Thursday in April.

Announcement to that effect was made today following a meeting of the Washington members of the National committee on the change of inauguration day. President Wilson, who is suffering from a severe cold on account of exposure, will be urged to the proposed amendment. "The dangerous weather this year emphasized the necessity for a change," said a member of the committee. President Harrison died from exposure on inauguration day and other prominent men have died or become seriously ill from exposure.

EGGS IN STORAGE.

Washington, March 9.—Cold storage holdings of eggs in the United States on March 1 showed a decrease of 97.2 per cent, compared with Feb. 1 holdings. The department of agriculture monthly report today shows 193,716 dozen in storage. Compared with a year ago holdings show a decrease of about 86.3 per cent. American cheese in cold storage March 1 was 12,069,756 pounds, a decrease of 35.3 per cent. during February and about 29.3 per cent. less than a year ago.

WILSON ORDERS EXTRA SESSION EARLY IN APRIL

Speaker Clark Asks White House For Probable Date

ARMING OF STEAMERS EXPECTED IN FEW DAYS

Sen. McLean Asks Special Session to Convene On March 20

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—President Wilson today decided to call an extra session of congress in April and also decided that he had power to arm American merchantmen against German submarines operating in violation of international law.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—In the 10-minute session of the senate today Senator McLean, Republican, of Connecticut, introduced a resolution prepared last night asking the president to call congress in special session March 20 to enact measures of vital importance to the nation. It was not discussed and the senate adjourned until Monday. There seems no likelihood that it will be passed.

Speaker Clark called at the White House today and asked for information about the probable date of an extra session of congress. He was told that he would be notified as promptly as possible.

Fortified with the opinions of Attorney General Gregory and Secretary Lansing that he has the authority to arm American merchant vessels without action by congress, the president is understood to be considering taking the step immediately.

At the same time it was generally anticipated that a date for the extra session which now seems certain, would be set in the immediate future.

Some members of congress want to wait two weeks between the time of calling the extra session and the time for it to convene. It was thought possible that the president might go ahead and arm the ships and call an extra session of congress to meet later to provide the necessary money and pass appropriation bills which failed last session.

The senate today began its deliberations under a new rule which will forever end organized filibusters in that body. It will be enforced, prevent a little group of wilful rebels from blocking the passage of the armed neutrality bill, from staving off a vote upon a bill before the senate.

The new rule was adopted by the senate last night by a vote of 76 to 3. Under it two-thirds of the senators present and voting can in the future limit debate and say when a vote shall be taken on a pending measure. The rule is the one which was agreed to by both Democratic and Republican caucuses Wednesday night.

In adopting the rule, the senate is abandoning a century old custom under which a senator was permitted to talk as long as his physical strength held out.

The new rule was under discussion only six hours when a vote was reached. Such quick action was unexpected, although a prolonged struggle was not looked for. Those voting against the rule were Senators La Follette, Gronna and Sherman.

AFTER SHERWOOD'S SCALP.

ROBBERS GET $12,000 IN JEWELS; THREATEN SON OF WEALTHY MAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Kansas City, Mo., March 9.—Burglars entering the home of A. P. Nichols here last night found the house deserted save for Mr. Nichols' 13-year-old son. Placing the boy between them as a hostage the pair waited half an hour for the return of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols. On their arrival they were robbed of money and jewelry valued at $12,000 before the son was returned to them.

CUBAN SOLDIERS AGAIN CONTROL REBEL FACTIONS

Troopers Flee From Santiago When Government Troops Approach

PRES. MENCIOLE THINKS REVOLT HAS COLLAPSED

No Details of Fight But Plans Made to Prevent Reorganization

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 9.—Official dispatches to the navy department today, established that Cuban government forces have regained control of Santiago, the stronghold of the rebel uprising.

President Mencionle has notified this government that Governor Munoz, in command there represents him and the recognized Cuban government.

The re-possession of Santiago and the capture of the rebel leader Gomez and his staff, is regarded here as marking the collapse of the rebellion. Today's dispatches do not say whether there was a fight but says the rebels "realizing they were traitors about to be captured" threw away their arms and fled to the outskirts.

It appears from the dispatches, which are incomplete, that the Munoz forces took the city by a coup within it and before the Mencionle troops marching on Santiago had arrived.

Munoz previously had declared himself loyal to President Mencionle and the government and at his request, American forces were landed to protect foreign interests in case the departing rebels should attempt to re-enter after having gathered their forces outside.

Landing of American marines and blue jackets at Santiago, Cuba, to protect lives of Americans and other foreigners and their property was reported today in dispatches to the state and navy departments. The reports said there had been no fighting in the city or its suburbs up to midnight last night.

GOVERNMENT OPENS OVER MILLION ACRES OF WESTERN LAND

Washington, March 9.—More than a million and a half acres of land, mostly non-irrigable, were designated under the enlarged Homestead act in February, Secretary Lane announced today. Under this act entrymen may acquire a homestead of 320 acres of land.

The states with the approximate number of acres designated in each are as follows: Arizona, 22,500; Colorado, 240,000; Idaho, 37,700; Kansas, 13,000; Montana, 185,700; New Mexico, 461,800; and North Dakota, 451,500 acres.

ELEVEN YEAR OLD BOY ACQUITTED FOR MURDER; AVENGED FATHER'S DEATH

Croweburg, Kan., March 9.—Eleven year old Joe Vinardi went back to school today exonerated by law of having avenged, in blood the killing of his father. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of self defense absolving the boy from blame for the death here last Monday of Mike Gilio, suitor for the hand of Joe's sister, and enemy of Glancento Vinardi. Joe's father.

There was a feud between the elder Vinardi and Gilio, because of Gilio's attention to Vinardi's daughter. Monday night they met. Both were armed. Next day both were found dead and it was at first believed they had killed each other. But the inquest revealed the following facts:

Vinardi, the elder, lying mortally wounded, instructed his son to obtain vengeance. His father's shotgun in hand, the boy shortly afterward found Gilio in front of his home. Gilio had a shotgun also. He pointed it at the boy and laughed at him, whereupon Joe Vinardi fired, killing Gilio.

3 YEARS ADD TO HER FAITH IN VAPORUB

It Saved the Life of Mrs. Koch's Little Baby.
IS BIG FAT BOY NOW.
"I Feel that My Life Was Saved By It, Too," Says Columbus Mother.

Mrs. M. E. Koch, 848 Scott St., Columbus, Ohio, was one of the first to try the Southern remedy—Vick's VapoRub Salve, when it was introduced in Ohio.
In March, 1913, she wrote:—
"We had a baby five months old that had pneumonia in its worst stage. We had a good doctor, but it was a very stubborn case, so we tried Vick's VapoRub, and saw quite a change in a short time."
In February, 1916, Mrs. Koch writes:—

"The baby I wrote you about before is now a big fat boy, and we feel that his life was saved by using Vick's. I feel that my life was saved by it, too. We were in the flood of 1913, and I took a very heavy cold which settled on my lungs. Everybody thought I was going into consumption, and I thought so myself, but I used Vick's freely, and it worked like magic. My husband laughs at me and says I think Vick's will cure everything, but I tell him that it has cured everything that I have used it for yet."

For cold troubles, head or chest colds it should be applied over the throat and chest and covered with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck, so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. For surface inflammations, such as burns, bruises, stings, piles, soreness, or sprains, just apply the salve over the affected parts. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

BATTLE CRUISERS AND SUBMARINES IMPORTANT UNITS IN UNCLE SAM'S FINE NEW NAVY

Proposed type of swift battle cruiser for the navy and coast patrol submarine "L 1."

The present war in Europe has shown the great value of submarines and swift battle cruisers. Uncle Sam was weak in these when the war started, but he will be no longer when the vessels now authorized are completed. The battle cruiser shown above—the type approved by the navy department—will have a displacement of about 20,000 tons and its main armament will consist of twelve 12 or 14-inch guns. The submarine shown is the latest type of undersea craft adopted for use in connection with the protection of the coast line. Uncle Sam has eleven vessels of this type.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and aches; undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. —Advertisement.

Presidential Dignity.

Dignity is the most terrible punishment inflicted by the people upon their president. The president must always be on his dignity; he can never relax. He cannot sit in the orchestra or in the gallery, away from everybody's staring glances. He cannot laugh too uproariously; he cannot fail to applaud. He is constantly on exhibition. When he travels he must appear at all the railroad stations that he passes through, lest the impression get abroad that he is undemocratic. The secret service men are by act of congress ordered to guard the life of the president. They shop with him, they accompany him on the links, they sit in his limousine, they go to the oculist with him, to church, to the bank. The president, in short, is not a private person at any time; he is treated by the government, the people and the press as public property.—David Lawrence in Century.

To Waterproof Tents.

Here is the way to waterproof cloth. Dissolve ten pounds of rosin in four gallons of hot linseed oil. Pour into a tub to which a wringer is attached. Pass the cloth through the hot oil and, as soon as well soaked, through the wringer. Spread on fence or ground immediately until thoroughly dry. Drying may take a week or more. This solution will treat about fifty yards of cloth.

For waterproofing a tent Nessmuk in his "Woodcraft" gives this recipe, which he says is excellent: To ten quarts of water add ten ounces of lime and four ounces of alum. Let it stand until clear. Fold the cloth or tent snugly and put it into another vessel, pour the solution in and let it soak for twelve hours, then rinse in lukewarm rain water. Stretch and dry in the sun.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every line of business is closing its doors to "Drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of ORRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry. We are so sure that ORRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

When you stop "Drinking," think of the money you'll save; besides, sober men are worth more to their employers and get higher wages.

Costs only $1.00 a box. We have an interesting booklet about ORRINE that we are giving away free on request. Call at our store and talk it over.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. —Advertisement.

Colony of Cousins.

In Catlin bay, close to the great rock of Gibraltar, there is a colony so unique that it stands out almost as a tribe distinct in itself. Many generations ago, during a storm, a fleet of Genoese fishermen put into the sheltered spot and so escaped the fury of the sea. In the boats, so history has it, were many women, and they became so enamored of the spot that huts were built and they remained. Hundreds of years have passed, and the little tribe still lingers on. It is a colony of cousins, dwelling apart in the shadow of a great rock and going down to the sea in ships to earn a hard won livelihood.

ESTABLISHED IN 1820.

LEISURE TIME.

Leisure time is a comparatively modern invention. The old timers never had any leisure. They worked longer hours than we do. Factories used to run 11 and 12 hours a day. Farmers would get up at four and work until dark.

Clerks, merchants and professional men used to run their own back yard gardens. Many men receiving large incomes were not averse to raising potatoes and beans in the home lot. They had become accustomed to counting the pennies, and besides they thought the active work was good for their health.

Today working hours are gradually growing shorter. Many people get Saturday afternoons. The eight hour and the nine hour days are becoming common. There are a great many people who can have their evening meal promptly at six o'clock, leaving a good long evening free for other pursuits.

Hundreds of thousands of these people, whose fathers as aforesaid used to take up the shovel and the hoe at that hour, are now out spinning around in their automobiles. Many of the young people are simply romancing up and down the towns, thronging the refreshment stands and eyeing the other sex.

This great change in the habits of our people is not wholly a decadence. It does mark a decline of that old resolute spirit that founded fortunes and developed savings bank accounts. But leisure time is valuable if used well. The hours an indoor worker spends on out door sport are often the most valuable of the twenty-four.

Only the time ought not be spent aimlessly. Simply drifting around the streets develops no muscles and lays no foundations for future success. If many people this summer would spend it in raising potatoes, they would stand a better chance of business success. But whether spent in labor or sport, some definite end of achievement or physical advancement ought to be held in view.

HUMOR OF THE SITUATION.

There hasn't been much humor about the present diplomatic situation. It is all grim, dreadful reality. But even in the blackest night there are flashes of lightning. In the throes of war there is occasionally an international smile. Such must be suggested by the proposition that Mexico, with help from Germany, may win back Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona and perhaps part of California.

The Germans are not such simpletons as seriously to entertain any such proposal. When they get ready to strike it will be at more accessible points. It will be the great seaport cities with their vast treasure, and at the exposed munition plants and shipyards.

But this suggestion shows about how high they rate the intelligence of Carranza and his coterie. No doubt all seems rather real to our bewitched eyes of Guadalupe. The Mexican temperament does not see things in relation to cold facts. Probably they have all along cherished the dream that some day their lost territory would again be theirs.

A German-Mexican-Japanese attempt to overrun the southwest border may be dismissed as a fantastic dream. Supplies would have to be shipped half around the globe, accessible to attack by every submarine prowler. Mexico, with all its anarchy, its lack of railroads and

CENSORSHIP A PROTECTION.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)

For once, at least, Great Britain's practice of examining mail matter addressed to Germany from the United States has been of benefit to our government. A private in the National Guard of Minnesota, on duty at the Mexican border, has been sentenced to five years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for attempting to furnish military information to Germany. In a letter to relatives in Germany, the enlisted man, a native of that country, states that millions of Germans in the United States were ready to rise against the government in the event of war and that the troops at the border would not stand up against an efficient force. This letter was intercepted by the British and turned over to the Washington government.

Great Britain's disregard of the rights of neutral nations has met with censure in this country and there is no disposition to approve her policies here; at the same time our own government cannot undertake to censor private mail addressed to persons in a country with which we are at peace. If it did, a protest would go up that would drown that raised against Great Britain's examination of mails en route to Germany. It is evident, then, that the practice usually and rightfully condemned has been of some value to the United States. Probably if the truth were known about the amount of information about plots from this source that has been placed in the hands of the secret service, the people would decide that this censorship, while we are governed by our peaceable relations with Germany, is a protection.

AN ENCOURAGING RECORD.

(New York Sun.)

On March 3, 1916, the votes of 68 Senators of the United States were cast to uphold the nation's honor and lay the Gore resolution on the table.

One year later, 76 Senators signed a document setting forth their desire to vote to uphold the nation's honor and explaining the legislative situation which robbed them of the opportunity so to do.

On March 7, 1916, in the House, 276 Representatives voted yea on the motion to lay the McLemore resolution on the table, and thus to uphold American honor.

Six days short of one year later, 403 Representatives voted aye on the bill to define the intention of the United States to defend its rights with arms, if such defense should become necessary.

Thus culminated a year of German intrigue, of German propaganda, of German effort to corrupt and control the legislative department of the United States; and to this record, but for the intervention of the constitutional limitation on the Congress of the United States, would have been added the passage of the armed neutrality bill by the Senate.

It is a record not perfect, but encouraging. It holds promise that we soon emerge from the field atmosphere of a detestable cowardice and stand solidly on the rock of unimpaired Americanism.

Arm the American ships, and bid them enforce respect for the flag on the seas!

MENTAL ABILITY AND SEX.

Professor Spencer Forster, in The Scientific Monthly says that the mouthings about sexual distinctions in brain and in mental ability as indicating inferiority or superiority have no foundation in biology. Nor is it ever a question of equality from a biological standpoint. It is a question of complementary development, resting absolutely on a natural law, that of the conservation of energy. Havelock Ellis, in his interesting book, "Man and Woman," remarks upon the greater "affectability" of woman as compared with the male; a reader response to emotional stimuli as a result of her more mobile vaso-motor nervous system and the greater role which the abdominal organs play in her life. This physiological fact must be recognized in considering any question relating to the expansion of woman's sphere. The same writer also observes that woman is nearer the child in her general development, but "is not undeveloped man," that "the child represents a higher degree of evolution than the adult," and that "the progress of the race has been a progress in youthfulness—in some respects it has been a progress in feminization."

In the process of individual expansion woman is bound to free herself from worn-out patriarchal traditions. One thing, however, she will never escape—the fundamental, potential nature of her organization, for by her bodily powers the race exists, and her mind takes on the same qualities: not the kinetic, inventive faculties of the restless male, but the steadfast, race-fostering qualities of the mother.

Spirit of the Press

Censure Rule.

The proposed censure rule of the Senate is extremely mild. If the United States is not to be made as helpless as Poland was by the "liberum veto," and to be partitioned as Poland was, at least as drastic an amendment of the rules as this ought to be adopted at once. This rule requires 16 names to be signed to the motion for closing debate, and then the motion could only be adopted the next day by a two-thirds vote. If the country is not entitled to that it is not entitled to exist.—Philadelphia Record.

It is not to be doubted that in many cases such a comment is a true word.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Sturdy Swiss.

The Swiss have not found universal military service burdensome. On the contrary, they have found it in the very essence of democracy. ## WAITING UP FOR HIM

Gossip From State House

Columbus, March 9.—The Christian Science bill, the Terrell bill for relief of cities, Shohl Cincinnati terminal bill, and the administration for action in the house today. The Mulcahy highway bill, amended in the senate was expected to come up in the house for concurrence in senate amendments and Republicans were lining up to fight the amendments.

The erection of a hospital for crippled children was assured today as a result of the passage in the senate last night for the Sprague building creating the commission to build the hospital and appropriating $60,000 for the first year.

The bill was amended so as to provide for the erection of the hospital near Ohio State University in order that it might be used for clinical purposes by the school of medicine.

The Clark bill establishing a bureau of markets in the department of agriculture lacked only the signature of Governor Cox to make it a law today. Although introduced as a Republican measure the bill received unanimous support in the senate last night.

The Mooney bill redefining the military laws of the state, permitting the Ohio militia to receive federal aid and making the Ohio military laws conform to the national defense act also awaited the governor's signature today, having passed the house last night.

The Baum bills, affecting the Akron water supply were not reached on the senate calendar last night. They will be pressed by Senator Palmer of Summit county today.

Many bills were still clogging the calendars of both houses at the legislature on the eve of the session today and indications are that tomorrow's session will run into the early hours of Sunday morning before recess is taken until March 20. It was 3 o'clock in the morning when the session closed two years ago.

Members are tired from the strenuous work of the last few days and it is with difficulty that Speaker Hopple in the House is able to maintain anything like order.

The usual hilarity is expected to break forth at the closing session tomorrow night, although leaders have warned against any misconduct. Throwing waste paper baskets and books at each other, singing songs and creating a general turmoil usually goes with the closing session of the House.

Country dogs when they go to town will be right in style with the city dogs, wearing a collar and tag, if the bill by Representative Platt of Ashtabula, which is expected to pass the House today and the Senate tomorrow, becomes a law. It provides for licensing every dog in the state. Owners will get their license and tag when they pay their $1 dog tax without any extra charge.

The bill does not provide for country dog catchers but any person may report a dog not wearing a collar and tag to a justice of the peace and if the owner does not procure a license within 24 hours he is liable to a fine of from $15 to $50. The bill is designated to rid the sheep growing counties of stray dogs which kill sheep. Fees from the license would go into the sheep fund and to the Humane Society where there are no sheep killed by dogs.

A delegation of East Youngstown citizens whose property was destroyed by the riots there more than a year ago are here today urging passage of bills to appropriate $300,000 from the state treasury to compensate them for damages growing out of the riots.

Governor Cox may appoint a woman on the new state board of public instruction created by the legislature. As originally drawn the bill

UNITED STATES COULD EXIST IN WAR WITHOUT IMPORTS

Assistant Secretary Vrooman of the department of agriculture said recently that the United States could exist without imports and supported his statement with figures. He declared that the nation is amply able to feed itself if cut off.

Mr. Vrooman said: "We produce, in round figures, 25,000,000,000 pounds of meat, and we import less than 100,000,000 pounds, or less than one-half of 1 per cent, the bulk of which comes from Argentina, Australia and Canada."

"We produce here slightly over 2,000,000,000 pounds of sugar, and we import over 3,500,000,000 pounds from Cuba."

"We produce about 7,500,000,000 gallons of milk, importing about $1,500,000 worth, mostly condensed milk, from the Netherlands and Canada."

"We produce close to 2,000,000,000 pounds of butter. We import less than 1,000,000 pounds, chiefly from Denmark and Canada."

Other figures on production and imports are:

Cheese.—Production, 300,000,000 pounds; imports, 30,000,000 pounds, mostly from Italy, Switzerland and France.

Eggs.—Production, 2,000,000,000 dozens yearly; imports less than 1,000,000 dozens, chiefly from Canada, England and China.

Corn, Wheat and Rice.—Production, 4,000,000,000 bushels; imports of wheat, 600,000 bushels, principally from Canada; imports of rice, 2,500,000,000 pounds, mostly from China, England and the Netherlands.

Fish.—Production, 1,000,000,000 pounds; imports, something over $17,000,000 worth from Norway and Canada.

Sweet and Irish Potatoes.—Production, 450,000,000 bushels; imports, slightly over 200,000 bushels, from Bermuda, Canada and Mexico.

Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit.—Production, 25,000,000 boxes; imports, $2,100,000 worth, from Italy and the West Indies.

The employees of the editorial rooms of the Advocate surprised Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Bidgood last night at their new home in Elizabeth street, the event being in the nature of a house warming. Mr. and Mrs. Bidgood have just gone to housekeeping, though they are no longer "newlyweds." The invading party was burdened with a well stocked commissariat and lunch was served, covers being laid for eight. Mr. Bidgood is Associated Press operator in the Advocate editorial rooms.

The last meeting for the year of the Sesame club was held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Gault, Wednesday afternoon. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. C. L. Wilcox, president; Mrs. C. F. Wendelken, vice president; Mrs. Wilbur Gault, secretary; Mrs. Walter Trickey, treasurer; flower committee, Mrs. Frenir, Mrs. Ingram. It was voted to give each entertaining hostess a handpainted plate or like remembrance from the club. After the business meeting a contest was enjoyed, Mrs. Driscoll winning the prize, and a delicious repast was served. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. C. L. Wilcox in Ninth street, March 21.

The W. W. of W. S. met at the home of Miss Florence Pine on Thursday evening. A short business meeting was held and the hours were spent in games and music after which dainty refreshments were served to the following: Misses Mabel Fiehl, Mabel George, Helen Young, Helen Spring, Freda Burton, Ethel Weekly, Bertha Weekly, Ruth Neible and Alice Pine. The guests of the club were Misses Zona Tavenner and Nellie McCain. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Spring in Hoover street.

The King's Heralds of the First M. E. church will be entertained on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Grace Evelyn Long, in 32 Leroy street.

Mrs. Frank Slabaugh entertained the members of the Unity Reading Circle on Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Tenth street and the following program was given:

Quotations—Suggestions for Public Health.

The guests of the club are Mrs. L. L. Marriott of St. Louisville, Mrs. Clyde Hare, Mrs. M. J. Reese, Mrs. C. L. Stump, Mrs. Edward Edwards, Mrs. George House and Mrs. Frank Lees.

A number of his fellow employees at the Wehrle company and a few friends surprised Edward M. Streit on Thursday evening at his home in Western avenue, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Streit. The hours were informally devoted to cards and music and an appetizing supper was served. The molder presented Mr. Streit with a rocking chair and he received numerous other gifts which included the birthday cake made by George Hohl.

The guests were Messrs. Michael Ruff, Harry Rodamer, John Lannagan, James Lyda, Samuel Riland, Peter Roth, Pierce Hayden, D. E. Davis, H. Davis, Frank Kissane, Isaac Pyles, Frank Bush, Joseph Back, H. C. Kelly, Ray Gilland, Earl Streit, George Hohl and Charles Voss.

Miss Lillian Kammerer will entertain the members of the Thursday Afternoon Sewing club on Saturday afternoon at her home in 272 West Church street.

The N. Y. B. Club met, Thursday evening at the home of Miss Thora Slaughter, in Linden avenue. Music was furnished by Miss Harter and Miss Slaughter at the piano. Dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mabelle Kellenberger, Bernice Harter, Beulah Murray, Mary Herrold, Esther Robison and the hostess.

The "Magnus Quinque" entertained with a surprise party on Philip Hillbrant at his home in North Eleventh street. The evening was spent in music and games after which a two course supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Hillbrant. Mrs. E. J. Harney and Mrs. W. E. Norris.

Those enjoying the evening were: Helen Carille, Ottilie Briggs, Frances Lane, Marie Baker, Mildred Preston, Dorothy Carr, Golda Kerr, Mabel Oatman, Messrs. Fred Verheyen, Fred Preston, George Warner, Bernard Verheyen, Phil Hillbrant, Vernon Christian, Ben Grant and William Albright.

Dugan—Rugg.
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lillian Rugg, daughter of Mrs. Nathaniel Rugg of West Locust street and Mr. Charles Dugan of North Fourth street, which was solemnized in Columbus, Thursday evening.

The ceremony was read in the study of the King Avenue Presbyterian church, by the pastor, Rev. William Hindeman at 8:30 o'clock. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Coster of Chicago. Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. Dugan left for Cincinnati and a trip further south. They will be at home after April 1, at 87 Elmwood avenue. Mr. Dugan is city salesman for Fleck and Son.

GRAIN IS DESTROYED.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Detroit, March 9.—The grain elevator of the Detroit terminal railroad company caught fire shortly before noon today. The flames spread quickly through the building which contained several hundred thousand bushels of wheat. The elevator, adjoining buildings and valuable railroad property were damaged. The total loss has been estimated at $1,000,000.

For a Large
Easter Party

CHILDREN are so fond of the Easter rabbit and chickens that the giving of an Easter party for children is a simple matter for the hostess who is willing to accept the assistance of these amiable animals, says the New York Tribune. Such affairs range from the simple hunt for Easter eggs to the elaborate dancing parties with fancy dress and cotillions. One which is being planned this season by a woman to whom expense is nothing will provide simple games for the youngsters in quite an elaborate stage setting. One hundred children are to be invited.

A good old fashioned Punch and Judy show will be the first number on the program, and then will come dancing to lively music, as children have to be kept active. The musicians will not be in uniform, as many tots who have an unfortunate fear of policemen have been known in times past to be frightened by the bandmen in blue and brass buttons. A picturesque dandy, with a banjo, will eliminate all danger of howls at this party.

After the dancing "Going to Jerusalem" will be played for a short time, ending with a cakewalk, the children in pairs, headed toward the dining room. Judges at the door will be on the watch for the cleverest performers, to whom, of course, prizes will have to be awarded later.

The supper's the thing, always, at a child's party, and will be here also. There are to be five tables, each seating twenty children, and the spaces between the tables will be transformed into green fields and barnyards. Large toy horses will be pastured there, as well as real live goats borrowed from the farms in the neighborhood of this country house. Milking stools will be placed for seats around the low tables, which are to be built especially for the party. The enormous glass inclosed piazza adjoining the dining room will be used for some of the tables, so that they need not be too close together. In far corners under small cedar trees will be coops with real hens and tiny chickens. Real ducks will be swimming in the basin of the fountain at the conservatory's end. Canary birds will be let loose, and it is hoped they will fly about and sing. The only animals not real will be the toy horses and a make believe cow cleverly manufactured from rugs and a horn rack.

The five tables will be decorated with Easter animals, though here no attempt is to be made to have them alive. At the center of one table a large papier mache rabbit will hold a large pink candy egg filled with presents for every child at the party, and at each table will be a wee rabbit to match, with a chocolate egg to eat. The second table will have a lovely fat hen in a big sugar nest, with wee candy chickens in groups near her and also one at each child's plate, standing on a place card. The third will have a duck on a mirror, edged around with green spun sugar and looking just like a tiny pool of water. Twenty small candy ducks will be in the pool, and each one will be tied to a spoon in front of a child's place, so that it will sail toward him when the string is pulled. A spun sugar nest containing candy eggs will be at each table. The fourth table will have another mirror lake with sugar grass at the edges and candy frogs and Japanese dragon flies disporting themselves upon it. A peppermint snail will be at each plate to feed the candy frogs with. The fifth table will have an Uncle Remus group. There will be a Tar Baby, with Brer Rabbit and Brer Fox, and at each plate will be a chocolate turtle.

The supper itself will be simple, including creamed chicken, sandwiches and peas. The latter will be in the shape of little chickens, and the cakes will be egg shaped, with frosting in different colors. After supper a little more dancing will be allowed, prizes awarded and animal souvenirs distributed. A feature of the party will be the bringing in of a basketful of Easter eggs to be distributed.

Many a man is too short-sighted to see his own finish.

If children are allowed to violate the laws of eating and to overeat, it becomes a physical sin and is found to be at the bottom of most troublesome diseases.

This habit is often contracted in childhood under a faulty school and household regime. By this I mean an irregular method of providing appetizing food at only one or two meals during the day, instead of at each meal. This is frequently done, especially when there are school children when luncheon is merely a makeshift. Many cases of so-called overwork among children is due to unhygienic living.

FEMININE QUESTIONS

"How can I drive away these disturbing wrinkles—how can I make my skin smooth and soft—how can I get rid of the sallowness and dryness of my skin and bring back the fresh, youthful color?"

Women everywhere, everyday are asking themselves these questions, and the best answer we can give is to advise them to go to Dr. J. Evans' Eternal Original Cut-Rate Drug Store or any first-class dealer, at once, get a bottle of Ust and apply it regularly at night before retiring, for a short time. The results, from the use of this pure nut-oil, liquid preparation, are really wonderful. It feeds and nourishes the skin so that wrinkles quickly disappear, the skin becomes soft and smooth, plumpness is restored, and youthful color and freshness return. And some of the nice as well as the important features of the Ust treatment are that it is a clean, delicately perfumed liquid, and is guaranteed not to cause the slightest hair-growth. You will be delighted with Ust and if your skin needs attention get a bottle and begin its application at once. Freckles, black-heads and many forms of eczema yield to this treatment.—Advertisement.

Milady's Boudoir*Eradicating Wrinkles.

Wrinkles have been traced to many causes, and in order to eradicate them you must first discover the root from which your particular species of wrinkles have sprung. In the first place wrinkles are a natural consequence of age, for when the tissues beneath the skin lose their firmness the surface becomes seamed and lined.

The only way to stay the hand of Father Time is to keep the tissues well nourished and the skin clean and healthy. If you have always done this, and wrinkles continue to appear, then they are due to another cause.

Perhaps your eyes are weak, and to screen them from the strong light you twist your facial muscles about the eyes and brow, causing crow's feet and lines across the forehead. Women who need glasses when reading or working should wear them if they desire to keep the skin free from wrinkles.

Headaches are another reason for the skin becoming wrinkled. Every woman knows that at the approach of a headache she involuntarily raises her brows or draws them together. Also the eyes, being affected by the pain, close entirely, or partly so, and the facial muscles become tense. This is a short route to crow's feet and in a year or so the face will appear old and lined.

Consult your physician and find relief from these headaches, and then apply plenty of cold cream to your skin. At the first indication of an ache rub the cream well into the skin, not to relieve the pain, but to prevent the skin from feeling the strain.

A small amount of Kreamol shampoo will remove the dandruff, dust and dirt from the scalp. Try it today. Evans' Drug Store, Newark, and Ullman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio. 2-14-mwf-17

TAKING VISITORS TO SEE THE WAR

"Front Line Trenches" Far Away From Danger.

FRENCH OFFICER IS GUIDE

Conducts Neutrals to the "Near War" Zone—They Solemnly Put on Gas Masks and Steel Helmets and Think They're on the Firing Line—Every Airplane Considered a Taube.

How parties of "distinguished neutrals," usually Americans, are "taken to the front" was told recently in a Paris cafe which the "war correspondents" frequent.

"You've no idea how many people, women as well as men, insist on being taken to the front," said the officer who was explaining that it was his official duty to "guide" these parties. "There are men and women who come over here and explain that they have been sewing shirts for soldiers or collecting pennies for polios for a long time and feel that in order to continue carrying on their work properly they should see war waged at first hand, so that they could describe it at home, you know."

"Well, we have several different places where we take those parties. One is on the old battlefield of the Champagne offensive of the fall of 1915, and more recently we have used our old first line positions in the Somme sector. Then up in the Vosges we have a spot where the fighting line today is several miles in front of where it once was."

"As Safe as Chicago."

"There are always plenty of troops behind the lines all along the front, so that the old trenches never have the appearance of being deserted. And they look a little battered, too, as we do not bother to repair them and strengthen them continually as we do the actual fighting positions."

"We take our sightseers out to a rail head behind the lines and whirl them furiously for thirty or forty miles in army motorcars and then stop somewhere, in a spot about as safe as Chicago. There we hand out gas masks to the ladies and gentlemen, although the former usually refuse to put them on because it disarranges their hair, and we have to promise to warn them when a gas attack is signaled."

"We also hand them all steel helmets to put on in case shells break near us. Then we walk them a good distance until they are pretty tired, explaining that it would be likely to draw the enemy's fire if the automobile advanced any nearer to the front."

In a Real Trench.

"Finally we lead them into a trench, making them keep down below the parapet all the time so that German snipers won't see them and pick them off. Once in awhile we hand them binoculars and ask them if they don't see the gray clad boches away over there, and they usually answer that they do. If an aeroplane flies overhead they usually spot it at once as a Fokker—taubes they call them still, although all of that old model have been sent to the Russian front—and when they decide that it's an enemy machine it would be discourteous for me to deny it. I let them all hide in a dugout or trench cave until the machine passes."

"Sometimes I find a few polios and get some practice grenades for them to throw out front, and when they go off like firecrackers it produces some effect on the tourists, who want to know right away if they are under fire."

The officer was asked if he did not enjoy acting as guide to tourists since there was no real danger in it.

"No," he replied; "there's no real danger in it, but it annoys one extremely to have to wear a heavy steel helmet for hours when there is absolutely no sense in doing it and to have to breathe through a gummy, acid smelling gas mask when the only gas anywhere near is the acetylene used for the automobile lights."

New Coin For Germany.

The issue of new one pfennig coins in aluminum has just been announced in Berlin.

"BOX SEAT FOR AN ONION."

The drama—that is, the film drama—was again brought into a close relationship with vegetables when a New York theater, just off Broadway, exhibited the sign reprinted above. Not only are onions accepted, but a potato entitles the possessor to a seat in the orchestra far from the maddening association with onion owners.

At first the sign was considered as a joke by passersby, who still have a laugh in their sorely tried systems. In the afternoon a few persons of the type who might conceal vegetables timidly offered them for admission, and toward evening the theater's vegetable bin had become a packed house.

One man who exchanged an onion for a seat said: "Well, this onion business isn't so bad. I've often given $2 to see a Broadway show and got a lemon in exchange."

Don't do things by halves. Especially don't try to be whole souled in a half-hearted sort of way.

REAL NOURISHMENT.

Hygiene Tips For the Wise Mother to Follow.

It is not enough that the body should be supplied with the kind of food for repairing it and with the kind of food to keep it warm and to give power to move. It must also have lime, iron and common salt to build up the cells and to keep them in good condition.

Bones and teeth are examples of the cells which require lime and which cannot be repaired without it. Milk and eggs are the best sources of lime for the body. Other lime giving foods are buttermilk, prunes, beans, cottage cheese, celery, spinach and cauliflower.

Blood cannot be kept rich and red unless the body makes daily many millions of red blood corpuscles. In anemia, where people become pale and listless, the supply of red corpuscles is usually greatly reduced. Iron giving foods are whole wheat bread, egg yolk, cabbage, oatmeal, dried beans, celery, spinach, lettuce, asparagus and green string beans.

Nerve and brain cells cannot be made unless a substance for building them known as phosphorus is supplied in sufficient amounts in the food. This substance is most abundant in spinach, buttermilk, cottage cheese, asparagus, cauliflower, cucumbers and celery.

Some people buy lime, iron and salts at the drug store in various medicines. Others get them from fruits and vegetables. As a general thing our instincts may be relied upon to supply the organism with the necessary amount of common salt.

The human machine, like the steam engine, needs to be kept clean. Cellulose, a substance familiar in the long strings of old celery, in lettuce and in cabbage, is not used by the body for food, but cleans out the digestive tract. Among the other vegetables containing cellulose are carrots, green corn, potatoes, parsnips, fresh beets, squash, lettuce and lima beans.

A day's meals should contain some meat or eggs and milk, starchy vegetables, bread, butter, one vegetable which gives iron and one vegetable or fruit which gives lime. The phosphorus is usually insured by the milk, eggs and cereals.

A Furniture Hint.

When wood is badly dented or scratched it is often a problem to know how to get rid of the marks. This is quite easy. First of all fold a piece of blotting paper at least four times, then saturate with water, finally allowing the superfluous moisture to drip away. Now heat a flatiron until it is about the warmth required for laundry work. Place the damp blotting paper over the dent and press firmly with the iron. As soon as the paper dries examine the mark. It will then be found that the cavity has filled up to a surprising extent. When the dent is very deep a second or even a third application on the lines indicated might be tried. Sooner or later even serious depressions can be drawn up. Repolishing will clear away even the slight marks that might finally remain.

Blankets For Suits.

*Blessing
the Fire
at Easter*

IN an account of Easter in Rome published in the New York Evening Post mention was made of the curious ceremony of blessing the fire in the famous church of St. John Lateran.

All lights having been extinguished on Thursday evening, new fire is struck on Saturday by means of a flint and a colossal brazier filled with charcoal. After this is done the bishop, accompanied by his ministers with the cross, holy water and incense, in his miter and magnificent vestments, blesses the new fire and the five grains of incense that are to be fixed in the paschal candle.

Two long lines are formed of young deacons, students and monks waiting for ordination. They stand face to face with the bishop, looking down the line and stationed at the church door. After sprinkling the five grains of incense, which are large silver cones, and fanning them with the censor, one of the deacons puts on a white dalmatic and, taking the rod with a lighted candle fixed at the top, the officiators fall into procession and return to the tribune.

The lighting of this new fire represents the rising of Christ and his victory over sin. From the spark obtained the paschal candle is lighted, and this, according to St. Augustine, signifies three things: The virgin wax typifies the body of our Lord, the wick the soul, while the flame is the symbol of divinity. The use of the Easter taper is very ancient in the Roman church, dating back as far as Pope St. Zosimus, who at the beginning of the fifth century ordered that it should be made in the shape of a column, on which the order of office was inscribed. The dimensions of the Easter candle were enormous at the beginning; the largest one of the kind is now the papal candle, measuring four inches in diameter and about two yards and a half in height.

After the return of the procession to the church the blessing of the candle takes place, and it is decorated by the deacon with the five balls of gilded and silvered incense, which he thrusts into the wax in the form of a cross. These are symbols of the wounds and perfumes with which the body of our Lord was covered; it is lighted as a symbol of the resurrection and burns during high mass and veapers until Ascension, forty days after Easter.

U. S. WARSHIPS TO BE LARGEST OF ALL

New Battle Cruisers Will Cost $20,000,000 Each.

HAVE SPEED OF 35 KNOTS

Surpass British and German Vessels of Similar Construction—Japanese Nearest Ours in Speed and Build. Throw Tremendous Weight of Metal in One Broadside.

If the United States is not to have the largest navy, it will possess ships that in size and power will surpass any in the world, says the Indianapolis News. The new battle cruisers, construction of which has been authorized at a cost of $20,000,000 each, will be 7,000 tons larger than the largest British ships of the same class. They will mount ten guns of the fourteen inch type as compared with the eight 13.5-inch guns of the British Tiger class. The American ships will be 850 feet long, exceeding the length of the Tiger by 130 feet. They are expected to surpass the speed of the British ships by about two knots and will exceed the British Lion type in displacement by 8,100 tons and in length by 175 feet. The weight of the projectiles discharged in a broadside from the American cruisers will be 14,000 pounds, whereas the Lion and Tiger fire in each broadside about 9,000 pounds.

Bigger and Faster Than German Ships.

The German battle cruisers of the Derflinger type displace about 28,000 tons, or 6,400 less than the American ships, while a broadside from the German ship's twelve inch guns weighs 6,800 pounds, or less than half of that which the American craft can fire. The only other battle cruisers mounting fourteen inch guns are two Japanese ships, each of which mounts eight fourteen-inch guns and are able to discharge a broadside of 11,200 pounds. But the Japanese ships are smaller by 7,100 tons than the proposed American cruisers, and their speed is about five knots less. Russian battle cruisers are about the same size as the Japanese, but they are very slow, and the new American craft will exceed their maximum speed by over eight knots. Their distinguishing characteristics will be five great funnels, four between the masts and one aft of the after mast, an unusually low freeboard and slender lattice-work masts.

Queen Elizabeth Outdone.

The new 32,000 ton superdreadnaughts, construction of which is about to begin, will carry a main battery of eight sixteen-inch guns, each of which will fire projectiles weighing more than 2,000 pounds. The new ships will be about 5,000 tons larger than the famous Queen Elizabeth type of the British navy and will mount eight sixteen-inch guns as compared to the Queen Elizabeth's eight fifteen-inch guns. The great German superdreadnaughts are about 3,500 tons less in displacement than the American ships. The Japanese navy again is the one which possesses ships that rival most closely the American class. The Fusu has a displacement of 30,000 tons and the Yamashiro of 31,200 tons. The Fusu mounts twelve fourteen-inch guns, and it is said that ships of the Yamashiro class will be armed, like the Americans, with sixteen inch guns. Speed being equal, they should give the American dreadnaughts a hard fight.

British opinion regards the new battle cruisers as a revolutionary step in American naval construction and one likely to have considerable influence on naval development throughout the world. The Naval and Military Record of London, the leading service publication of Great Britain, in a recent article noted that the average speed of the ships of the American navy, class for class, has been lower than that of other important navies. Reliance was apparently placed by naval authorities on heavy ships of high power.

AN UNDIGESTED DINNER

Worse than a badly cooked dinner is a dinner that you can't digest. Do you know what it is to turn away from the best food, ill-humored and without appetite, though you know that it is delicious and that you need food to sustain you? This is nature's way of telling you that your digestion is out of order. Your stomach is not in a fit state to absorb food if you eat it, or your blood is not able to carry the necessary nourishment to your nerves, brain and muscles. First of all, put off eating until you are hungry. If you eat when you are not hungry you can't digest the food.

To put your blood in the right state to derive good from your food, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Without any purgative or weakening effect they purify your blood and enrich it, so that you not only have an excellent appetite for food, but are able to digest it comfortably and get benefit from it.

So many dyspepsias have been helped by this simple treatment that every sufferer from indigestion should try it. A diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent by mail, on request, by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co., 235 N. 9th St., New York, N. Y. No charge for it. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Co. will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 15c.

The total area of the canal zone, which includes all the land and water within five miles on either side of the center line of the canal, but does not include the area within the three mile limit on the Atlantic and Pacific ends of the canal, is 441½ square miles, of which the land area is 332.35 square miles. The area of Gatun lake within the five mile limit is 106.4 miles, the area of Miraflores lake 1.9 miles and the area of the canal channel itself .85 mile. The area was given in 1911 as 438 square miles, which was correct at that time, but by a treaty proclaimed Feb. 18, 1915, an area of six and one-half square miles adjoining Panama city was ceded to Panama in exchange for two small tracts, one of them in the city of Colon, on which one of the defense batteries of the canal is situated. The same treaty gave the Panama canal administration control of all the waters of Gatun lake outside of the five mile limit and all land adjoining the lake up to the hundred foot contour line, adding sixty-one square miles to the 441½ miles within the zone, making the area of the canal zone and controlled territory 502½ square miles.—Christian Herald.

By Post.

Maurice Maeterlinck, they say, one day found the little daughter of a friend very busily and conscientiously blackening a nice sheet of white paper. He asked to whom she was writing.

"To Prince Charming," said the child. Naturally the reply delighted the author of "The Blue Bird." When the little girl had finished her letter she put the sheet of paper in an envelope, wrote on it "The Prince Charming" and said to Maeterlinck:

"Please stick a stamp on it and put it in the post."

A man to whom the poet was telling the story interrupted him at this point. "And what," said he, "did you do about it?"

"Well," said Maeterlinck dreamily, "I stuck a stamp on the envelope, and I put the letter to the Prince Charming in the letter box on the corner. You never can tell."—New York Post.

Why Japan Cannot Be Starved.

Two of the most interesting sights in Tokyo are the fish market at Nihombashi and the Mitsukoshi department store, very near the Billingsgate of Tokyo. Nihombashi is not only the geographical center of Tokyo, but of Japan, according to the Japanese, who ought to know. Here is situated what is probably the largest fish market in the world. There is every kind of fish a man could mention and a few thousand other varieties. Some big fellows cut up into great steaks, weighing ten pounds or so, and there are little ones which would make good minnow bait, if one could find a hook small enough not to mangle them. I think that in certain sections they must use a chain-ois skin for a fish net and save everything that does not pass through the pores. Until the sea dries up around Japan the islands will never starve.—Christian Herald.

Others Have Had the Same Desire.

Two high school girls came into the criminal courtroom a few days ago just after a case had been tried and the jury had been locked up in the jury room for deliberation.

"May we listen to this case?" one of the girls asked an officer of the court. "They just finished the case," replied the official, "and the jury is now debating what its verdict should be."

"May we go and listen to the jury debate?" they asked.

And then the official enlightened them on one phase of the jury system.—Indianapolis News.

The Word Umbrella.

The English word umbrella is very like the Latin, coming through the Italian "ombrellina," or "little shade." The French, German, Spanish and others give it a distinctive name, such as "parapluie," "regenschirm" and "parasol."

"Umbrella" and "parasol" are etymologically precisely the same thing, but custom has given them the distinctions that we understand today.

Poison Upon Their Cheeks.

Professor M. P. Philbrick of the University of Washington told the Washington State Philological society that women of the seventeenth century powdered their cheeks with corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury) and with white lead. And they perfumed their gloves with ambergris.

Good Likeness.

"Did Miss Soungirl have her photographs taken yesterday?"

"Yes."

"Good likeness?"

"Yes; must have been, for she refused to have them and demanded another sitting."—Exchange.

A Shrub and a Tree.

Southern California boasts one native species of acacia, the cat's claw (a. greggii), which is but a shrub in that state, but becomes a tree in Arizona. It bears small pale yellow flowers and an abundance of very sharp thorns.—Argonaut.

Early Paper.

When paper was first made in England, in 1558, it was only of a brown color, and it was not until about 1690 that white paper was produced, and even then it was of inferior quality.

TO CUT UP BIGGEST FARM IN WORLD

22,000 Acres in North Dakota to Be Divided.

TO MAKE SMALL FARMS

Famous Dalrymple Holdings Were Acquired in Early Days of Northwest. Change in Agricultural Conditions Brings About Decision to Split Up Vast Tract.

The famous Dalrymple farm in Traill and Cass counties, N. D., said to be the largest in the world and known wherever agriculture on a mammoth scale is talked of, is to disappear. That which remains of the great holdings of Oliver Dalrymple, in his day the greatest farmer in the world, comprises 22,000 acres. It is to be cut up into about 100 small farms of 160 to 320 acres, says the Minneapolis Journal.

The seed that is already in the Dalrymple seedhouses on the farm for the 1917 crop will go into the ground this year, for the land is full plowed and as ready as can be at this time for the spring planting. But when the 1917 crop is taken off the land that will be the end of the Dalrymple farm.

Day of Bonanza Farms Past.

Casselton, Valley City, Fargo and other prosperous North Dakota towns will be glad to see the big farm broken up. Time was when these bonanza farms were a great asset, and the publicity that their successful operation gave to the northwest at a time when many people supposed grain could not profitably be raised that far north was worth millions. But economically North Dakota has changed.

Oliver Dalrymple, who was a Scotchman and a skilled farmer, operated a 3,000 acre farm south of St. Paul prior to 1875. That made him an agriculturist of some note even then. In 1875 Oliver Dalrymple and his brother, William F. Dalrymple, became interested in North Dakota land.

The Dalrymples interested E. B. W. J. and J. L. Grandin, three brothers, of Tidionte, Pa., also two eastern capitalists named Cass and Cheney. In all 75,000 acres of land were bought. The Northern Pacific, to finance itself in a period of tight money, was issuing land scrip with stock, and the land was acquired this way in part, holding a number of farms that were of such size that each was remarkable in itself. But the Dalrymple farm was the largest of any, and after breaking 20,000 acres in 1876 Mr. Dalrymple continued extending until at one time he had in excess of 35,000 acres under cultivation.

Show Place of the Northwest.

Visitors from every part of the United States and many from abroad came to the farm at harvest time to see the wheat. Writers for eastern publications came to view and describe the farm. Many columns were written in magazines and eastern periodicals of the scale on which operations were conducted. The romance of the bonanza farmer was written and rewritten.

For twenty-five consecutive years nothing but wheat was raised on the Dalrymple farm. But for some years past crop rotation has been followed, and the farm has produced vast quantities of flax, barley, rye, oats, millet and other crops in the process of resting and restoring the soil, and every year a portion has been laid in summer fallow.

Oliver Dalrymple, his name known in England, France and Germany, himself a St. Paul resident in the winter time and a practical farmer on the land in spring, summer and harvest time, died in 1908. There was some cutting off of parcels of land before and after his death, but even after that had been done his two sons, William Dalrymple and J. S. Dalrymple of Minneapolis, came into possession of nearly 22,000 acres.

Constipation

Poisons the System

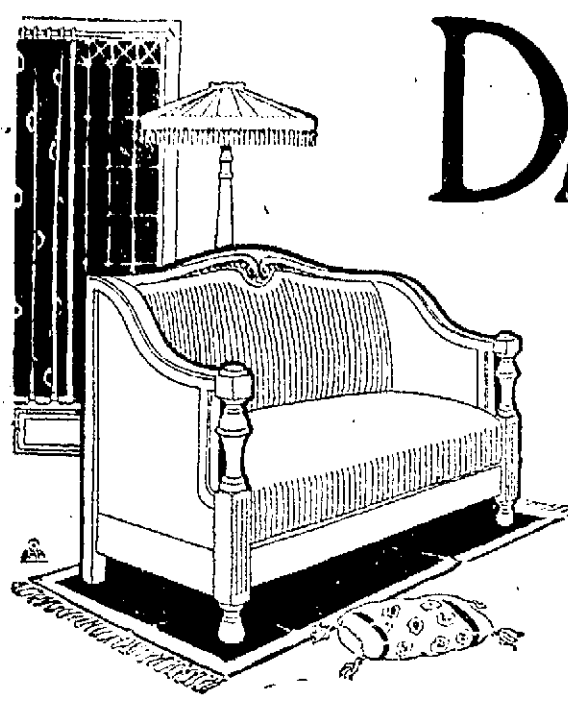

Gives You Headaches and Stomach Trouble—Get Relief in Thirty Minutes by Taking a Wine-glassful of Tollo Water.

You don't get enough exercise in the open air to keep your bowels regular. Don't make a drug shop of your stomach—stick to Nature. Tollo Water from Dawson Springs, Kentucky, is Nature's own liver and bowel regulator.

When you feel all fagged out, your food distresses you and you have a dull, mean headache in the morning, get quick relief by taking a third of a tumbler of Tollo Water in a glass of plain water before breakfast. It washes out the poisonous waste in the stomach and bowels, relieves the liver of its bile and makes you feel fine in just a few minutes.

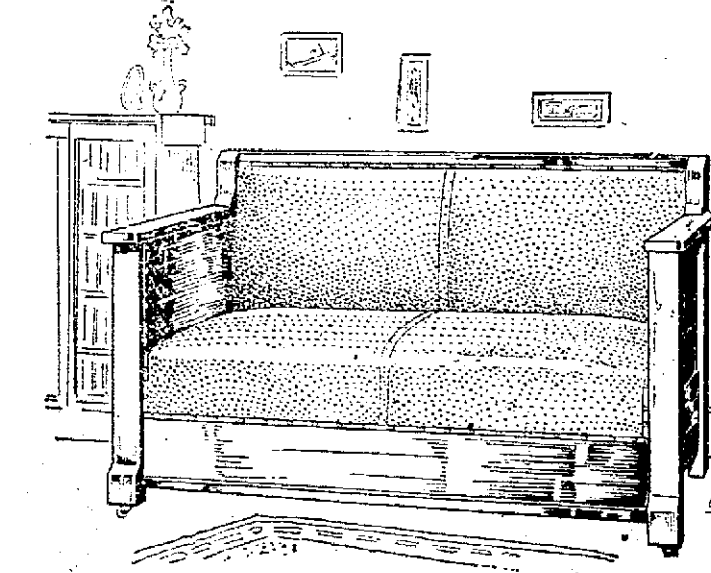

Take it regularly for several mornings to get the poison out of your system. After that an occasional wineglassful will keep your bowels regular, your stomach ready to digest anything you eat and your head will feel fine and clear. Any druggist will sell you a bottle for 15 cents. Get one today and learn for yourself the benefit of this wonderful product of nature.—Advertisement.

How's Your Blood?

PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS MEAN BAD BLOOD.

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a vegetable and temperance remedy such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for nearly 50 years. Its ingredients printed on wrapper.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.

In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache and constipation.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery today from any medicine dealer, in tablet or liquid form, or send to cents for trial package.

Springfield, Ohio.—"I am glad to speak highly of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I used it because I needed a tonic. I also had a cough. I had used other remedies which did little good. Then I took 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it helped me to get over the cough and made my health better."—MRS. C. S. WILSON, 77 Broadway, Springfield, Ohio.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated, antiscorbutic granules—the smallest and the easiest to take. One little Pellet for a headache.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Musterole Gives Delicious Comfort

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on the temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

Conquers Rheumatism In a Very Few Days

It is an established fact that one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day has driven the pain and agony from thousands of racked crippled and despairing rheumatics during the last five years.

Powerful and sure relief and acting yet harmless. Rheuma gives blessed relief almost at once. The magic name has reached every hamlet in the land and there is hardly a druggist anywhere who cannot tell you of almost marvelous cures.

If you are tortured with rheumatism or sciatica, you can get a bottle of Rheuma from T. J. Price, or any druggist for not more than 75 cents, with the understanding that if it does not completely drive rheumatic poisons from your system—money back.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsed coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

GINGEROLE

The Wonderful New Ointment, Drives Away Chest Colds, Coughs and Sore Throat

Money Back If It Is Not All We Claim

Every druggist in America is authorized to return your money if it does not do as advertised.

Just rub it on and away goes sore throat, coughs and chest colds, over night. It will not blister, but it will stop headache, earache or toothache in ten minutes.

It quickly stops rheumatic pains, neuralgia, neuralgic and lumbago and instantly relieves tonsillitis, pleurisy, and bronchitis.

For sprains, swellings, sore, burning feet and all aches and pains it has no equal. All first-class druggists sell Gingerole for 25 cents.

ABOUT NERVES.

No Woman In This Day Can Afford to Have 'Em.

The nervous woman is rarely pretty. She may be extremely beautiful when young, but the nervous tension under which she lives inevitably wears out her body. At twenty-five she looks near thirty; at thirty she seems forty; at forty she's thin, laggard, wrinkled, old.

So if you are the least bit neurotic take extra good care of yourself. Rest more than the ordinary woman does to overcome the nervous strain; eat plenty, for food soothes the nerves; eat often to keep the blood in the stomach. This does not mean that occasional nibbles of candy are to be taken or that meals may be eaten any time of the day or night. It means frequent nourishment at regular periods. A good plan is an egg and milk between breakfast and luncheon and between luncheon and dinner and a cup of hot chocolate and a cracker just before going to bed.

The nervous woman should rest a lot to conserve her energies. When possible she should lie down in preference to sitting down, as the position is more complete. It is surprising the number of minutes of rest that can be snatched between the duties of the day. If the rest follows it immediately after a meal it will do double good, for it will allow all the energy to go toward digestion.

Unfortunately it is hard to convince the nervous woman that she must rest. She always means to, but she never will take the time, for her type can find more things to do than any other sort of woman.

About Stockings.

At almost any shop where needle-work designs are sold one can purchase perforated patterns for transferring to stockings. As a rule the design is supposed to start at the instep and extend upward for six or eight inches. It is best to hold a burning ball inside the stocking while doing the embroidery. Or one might rip open the back seam, provided it is neatly and tightly sewed again when the embroidery is finished.

While it is customary to use silk for the work, those the extremists who bring out the stockings in beads. The only objection to these is that they may be difficult to launder.

Many a man who never tried to raise a eyebrow frequently raises his eyebrows.

Entertaining at Easter

FOR luncheon and dinner on Easter Monday and Tuesday the decorations should express the Easter spirit. Rabbits, chickens and eggs must appear in one form or another. The shops are filled with lovely place cards and favors.

One effect which is charming for a luncheon table has yellow and white for its color scheme. In the center of the table is a mound of daffodils surrounding a big white egg, from which a little white chicken peeps. From the center streamers of yellow ribbon lead to the four corners and finish in a bow. At each place is found a little candy filled rabbit standing on its hind legs with the front feet extended.

On the feet is placed the little card with the name of the guest whose place it is. The upper half of the rabbit comes off, and the body is filled with tiny bonbons. These serve as both place cards and favors.

At such a luncheon the colors must be preserved throughout, starting with grapefruit and a golden chicken bouillon, followed by salmon or eggs in one fashion or another. Chicken may be served as the meat, or if chops are preferred little yellow rufflets can be put on their stems. Orange salad keeps up the color scheme and a banana or deep yellow vanilla cream finishes it. Little egg candies are appropriate and attractive.

For a children's party there is a larger field for variety. A new version of an old game may be rung in very neatly. A couple of hundred little egg candies may be concealed in every imaginable corner of the house. These are to be sought by all the little ones. The child finding the most should receive the prize of a fuzzy chicken filled with candy, the second prize being a smaller rabbit, and the booby prize should be a cardboard rabbit drawing a cardboard egg, on which should be inscribed "booby."

For prizes in other games the chocolate or nut eggs make delicious and acceptable gifts. There are so many old fashioned games in which prizes may be given, and this always adds a zest to the games.

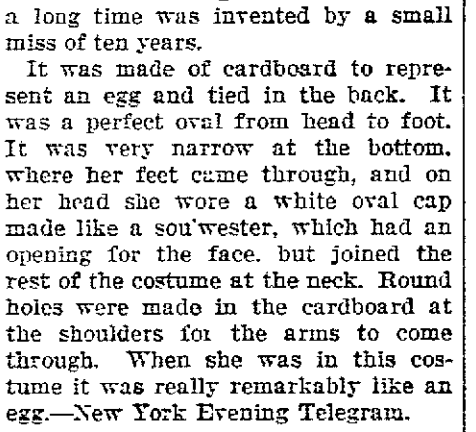

A costume party for the children affords a great deal of amusement and plenty of room for originality. The invitations should direct each guest to come in Easter costume. One of the best costumes along these lines seen in a long time was invented by a small miss of ten years.

It was made of cardboard to represent an egg and tied in the back. It was a perfect oval from head to foot. It was very narrow at the bottom, where her feet came through, and on her head she wore a white oval cap made like a sou'wester, which had an opening for the face, but joined the rest of the costume at the neck. Round holes were made in the cardboard at the shoulders for the arms to come through. When she was in this costume it was really remarkably like an egg.—New York Evening Telegram.

Legend of the Cross

THE legend of the cross most widely spread and most generally believed in the olden time is as follows:

Adam, having lived to a great age and feeling that death was not far distant, bade his son, Seth, bring to him either the fruit of life which grew in the garden of Eden or the oil of mercy which flowed there and which had been promised to Adam upon his expulsion from the garden. Seth made his way to paradise by the footprints of Adam and Eve, over which no grass had ever grown.

The angel to whom Seth made known his errand gave him three seeds from the fruit of the tree of which Adam had eaten and directed that they be placed under Adam's tongue just before his burial. In the course of time Adam died, and the angel's instructions were carried out.

Soon there sprang from Adam's grave in Hebron three trees—a cedar, a cypress and a yew tree. These long grew together, forming one trunk, which came to be regarded as a symbol of the holy trinity. This tree, transplanted by Moses and later by David, grew to be very beautiful.

But even his beauty did not prevent Solomon from cutting it down in order to complete his temple, for which a beam of enormous size was lacking. But each time that the beam cut from the tree was fitted it would be either too large or too small, and such a strange circumstance was taken as a sign that it should not be used.

Some time after and, most versions agree, the beam was buried where the pool of Bethesda was at a later time discovered during a passion week the wood rose and floated on the surface of the pool and was used for the crucifixion cross.

Blahs—"Don't wait until it rains to buy an umbrella." Slobs—"No, umbrellas are always up then."

SPRING CURTAINS

Attractive Hints About How to Freshen Your Windows.

SOME INEXPENSIVE DRAPERIES

You Need Not Follow the Established Routine Unless You Want to, For Gingham Is Being Used Everywhere Except In the Parlor.

The woman who is going without curtains or overhangings because she cannot afford to buy any is making a great mistake. In the first place, there is nothing that adds so to the "livableness" of a room as well chosen curtains. But this does not mean elaborate, expensive, lace incrustated curtains or heavy, velvet or velours overdraperies.

How many women have any idea what pretty curtains plain five cent cheesecloth makes? There is something about it that makes it hang just right. They may be hemstitched or finished with a narrow cluny edge. They are especially nice for bedrooms, but many women use them all over the house. A thin, crisp organdie makes a pretty curtain also. They should be finished with a narrow ruffle, sewed on with a heading and should be looped back with a narrow band of the material, with a ruffle on the bottom edge. These are particularly effective in colonial rooms.

One can hardly pick up a woman's magazine nowadays without reading of the decorative value of chintz and cretonne for overdraperies. It can be bought as low as 20 cents a yard, and, if the pattern is selected with care, it may be split in the middle, making one length do for a window.

Striped and checked gingham is being used in dining rooms, bedrooms and kitchens. One woman used yellow and black checked gingham for overcurtains in her blue dining room last summer, and the effect was very striking. She made little flat pads of the gingham and tied them to the seats of the chairs. These curtains should be trimmed with cotton braid or ball fringe.

If one wants plain colors cotton crape is very good for bedrooms, finished with ball fringe to match. There are even rooms done in percale, pink with rosebuds.

So many of our rooms that are now quite commonplace could be made so attractive for very little money if a little thought and ingenuity were used.

hexagon mesh with the flowing drapery of crape. The brim of the hat is faced with conventional white crape.

Small Detail in Dress.

The little things in dress that many women overlook are tellings, footwear, gloves, hats and handkerchiefs. Be sure that your gloves are properly proportioned and when you decide on a well fitting style buy no other. Dust a little powder into your gloves before you wear them and smooth all the seams straight, have the lines on the backs properly over the center of the hands and the fingers in the tips of the gloves. Keep your hats in their boxes until you wish to use them and put them back at once when you take them off. Always brush them before putting them away, especially if they are made of velvet or a dark material that shows the dust. Never carry a soiled or even crumpled handkerchief. These are only little things, but it is the little things that make or mar one's appearance.

Coats Are Worn.

Wherever one goes in fashionable places in the evening one sees that the ultra smart women are not only wearing gowns and wraps to match, but are not discarding their wraps if the place can be entered by the public and not through cards of invitation.

This is the new note—remember that unless you are at a dinner party or a private ball you retain the wrap as you do the coat to a tailored suit in the daytime.

Turn about is fair play, but many a man, once he gets started, hates to turn about.

Inning a Success.

The Elks held their last winter indoor inning last evening at the Red Men's hall and it proved a success in every particular. A fine chicken dinner was served by Chief William Gray, assisted by the Elks stewards, Col. Wm. Hohl and brother Johnny, and the latter two gentlemen saw to it that all present were amply taken care of. A number of visiting Elks were in attendance.

DOCTORS SAY COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Specialists Declare Germs of Common Colds Scattered By Sufferers Are Real Danger

Doctors have recently declared positively that our common colds are really just as "contagious" as pneumonia or scarlet fever and that sufferers from colds should be isolated as carefully as victims of the latter diseases. They say that in sneezing the victim of a cold scatters millions of germs into the air which all of us breathe and when these germs lodge in the nose or throat of anyone who is weakened or run down they find another victim and another cold is started. It is important, therefore, to keep yourself built up by using Father John's Medicine which is a pure and wholesome body builder, and you will be able to ward off this danger because the cold germs cannot live in the nose or throat of a person in normal health. Remember too that Father John's Medicine treats colds and throat troubles without the use of alcohol or dangerous drugs so it is a safe family medicine, fine for the children as well as older folks. —Advertisement.

Birth Announcement.
Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Francis of the birth of a son Thursday evening at their home, 181 South Fifth street.

Last of Series.
Tonight at the Tenth Street U. B. church, Rev. Mr. Spears will preach the last sermon of this evangelistic service and requests that all who united with the church during these services be present. Services start at 7:15.

Street Lights Out.
The electric street lights did not burn the early part of last evening because of the fact that after the generator at the power plant had been connected up with the condenser, the adjustment had to be grafted in solid and midnight nights were chosen, but the moon failed to shine so that it was pretty dark. Everything will be alright tonight.

Fined $25 for Assault.
For an assault and battery upon Otis Wheeler, aged 75, John Webb was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Bigbee this morning. In addition he was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct and $5 and cost for drunkenness.

"Newark Welcomes You."
"Newark Welcomes You" are the cordial words which are to be flashed from the sign located on the roof of the Trust building. The big letters are in place, but they will have to be wiped up before the sign is illuminated which will take several days yet.

Eye Was Penetrated.
Margaret Bowers, 10 years old, whose eye was badly cut when her glasses were broken by a snowball, is somewhat improved. Glass was removed from her eye, and although the injury is very painful, it is hoped that the sight will not be permanently affected.

No New Cases.
There is absolutely nothing new in the smallpox situation. There are no new cases, and those affected are getting along as well as the physicians could hope.

MUMPS CAUSE DEATH OF COUNT VON ZEPPELIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 9.—Count Von Zeppelin was suffering from dysentery for some time prior to his death and a complication of the malady necessitated an intestinal operation, according to a Berlin dispatch to Reuters by way of Amsterdam. The operation was successful and his recovery was hoped for when mumps developed and later inflammation of the lungs it was difficult for him to receive nourishment and his power of resistance was considerably weakened. The critical point in his illness was reached a few days ago and he died at noon Thursday.

The morning newspapers print long obituaries of Count Zeppelin, whose career is reviewed in most instances dispassionately and in some cases with tributes to his patriotism and perseverance. Justice is done by the writers to the remarkable development of the Zeppelin airship as a traveling machine.

The reputed ambition of Count Zeppelin to lay London in ruin and his alleged confidence in the ability of his machines to achieve this object are recalled.

His least appreciative commentators say: "His chief feat is that he killed or wounded 1500 British citizens, mostly noncombatants, by dishonest means and gave Germany her greatest disappointment of the war."

GERARD'S CLERKS REACH HAVANA ENROUTE HOME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 9.—Former American officials and government employees in Germany, who arrived in Havana, March 5, on the steamer Alfonso XIII and are now on the way to their homes, according to the state department today, include H. G. Seitzer, formerly consul at Breslau, of Hamburg, Pa.; Miss Ella White, embassy clerk, and her mother, of Honolulu; Miss Meta Winter, embassy clerk, of Detroit; Miss Ruth Lehman, clerk of Cleveland, and Miss Vivian Stormer, clerk and her mother of Boston. Ambassador Gerard and another party of embassy and consular officials who left Coruna, Spain, on the steamer Infanta Isabel, are expected at Havana shortly.

TO THE SPUD

O thou plant of rising value, Once considered so piteous, Stupor of the plain fare dinner, Food for men of brawn and muscle, But held low by intellectuals, Now art thou more rare than diamonds, Precious more than pearls and rubies. Men are bartering automobiles, Ay, even limousines and racers, For a lot of thee in barrels. No one now will judge a mansion By its lace and silken curtains, By its handsome marble statues, By its etchings and old masters, By its shining grand pianos, By its draperies of velvet, By its broadcloth chairs and carpets, By the richest rugs from Turkey, But by use upon its table, Daily and without stint of measure. At thy presence in its dishes Men who own large shares in gold mines Look with unconcealed envy On the ones who have thee cornered. Lo, we bend and bow before thee, High enshrined above our teachings, Jewel of the modern market. And all men come paying homage To thee, spud once meek and lowly, O thou lordly, proud potato! —Josh Wink in Baltimore American

ZIMMERMANN, "PACK MULE" OF GERMAN FOREIGN OFFICE

Official Burden Bearer Looks Like American Farmer—Has Record For Skillful Statecraft.

His Excellency Alfred Zimmermann, German foreign secretary, who is accused of turning to intrigue with Mexico and Japan, does not particularly recall the Herr Zimmermann who was undersecretary of foreign affairs last year when I knew him in Berlin, says Ernestine Evans in the New York Tribune. In those days he was so sensible and so easy to talk to and had even a sense of humor.

He was the easiest man to see in the German foreign office, and after no red tape at all it was arranged that I should go and talk to him shortly after the first of Bethlehem-Hollweg's peace speeches a year ago December. Advancing across the narrow space of his office gravely and cordially was Excellency Zimmermann, looking for all the world like an American farmer and gently old and awkward like a schoolmaster. I remember nothing how broad and just a bit rough his hand was, how his reddish mustache drooped. His English was stiffer and slower than the fluent Oxford speech of the young Rhodes scholars who grace Wilhelmstrasse, and at first we talked slowly. Introductory official interviews are always stupid, for the official, even when he knows that he has a censor to comb your report of the talk and knows how easily he can deny saying anything, never says much.

That time we discussed America. He had been here some years before and hadn't been able to smoke a cigar on the pier and insisted that I and not he was native to the land of Vebotens.

Excellency Zimmermann had a positive appetite for grinding and seemed to have been carrying infinite details on his shoulders for years. "The pack mule of the foreign office," he was called, and for just that German diplomats with posts abroad liked to talk over their jobs with him when they came home.

He was said not to be afraid of blurring things out. His own rise from fairly humble origin, after studying at the universities of Jena and Breslau, to the Chinese consular service and thence into the diplomatic branch of the foreign office, rather set him apart from the other men, the Vons and the Zns.

The South Germans didn't mind his East Prussian origin, the Sozial-Demokraten were supposed to like him because he arranged interviews for them with the chancellor, and the Conservatives were supposed to come away appalled after he had listened a great deal and then said, "We understand each other."

He is an enormous listener. No one who waited long enough ever missed seeing him.

We talked of America. He called it the greatest empire. We had the land and sucked other nations in. We, too, discard their culture and tradition and, consciously or unconsciously, force new allegiances and ideals upon them. Sure always that ours are better than theirs. What we have missed was seeing the analogy between the German desire for homogeneity and ours, which we, however, accomplish without arms.

A PARADOX SOLVED.

Wielser Finds Out "When an American Is Not an American."
The solution of the paradox "When is an American not an American?" has just been discovered by Benno Wielser, born in Nebraska and more recently emigrated as a farmer in Canada.

Wielser went to Canada some years ago and in order to obtain a patent on a farm there became a naturalized citizen of Great Britain. A few weeks ago he returned to this country and tried to enlist in the United States marine corps, but was rejected as an alien. The secretary of labor was appealed to and decided that Wielser would be required to go through the same procedure as a foreigner in order to again become a citizen of the United States, which he did, and now he has enlisted.

Wielser said he would not change nationalities again for a farm.

NEWARK DEBATERS CONFIDENT; PUPILS SET FOR BIG EVENT

A large group of students of the Newark High school with streamers of red and white ribbon attached to their arms, saw the members of the debating team off to Zanesville at noon today and welcomed the team from Mt. Vernon.

This evening the ninth annual debate of the Central Ohio Debating League, including Mt. Vernon, Newark and Zanesville will present the question, "Resolved, That the states should establish a schedule of minimum wages for unskilled labor." Newark's affirmative team will remain at home while the negative team goes to Zanesville, and the judges who will decide the merits of speakers this evening in Newark will be Dean H. C. Minnich of Miami University, Prof. W. H. Siebert of Ohio State University and Prof. H. T. Spencer of Ohio State University.

AMERICAN VESSELS ARE SAFE IN PORT; SURUGA ENCOUNTERS SUBMARINE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 9.—The presence of a vessel suspected as a German raider in the sea lane travelled by ships running between New York and Mediterranean ports was reported by Captain D. M. Nicoll of the American steamship Suruga, which arrived here today from Havre and the Azores.

Captain Nicoll said that when the Suruga was north of the Azores on Feb. 20 in the direct track of the New York-Mediterranean trade, he sighted a strange vessel bearing down upon him. The vessel steamed completely at random, the Suruga stopped and then bore off in a new direction. The stranger was of the cargo type, a large vessel, with two masts, armed with a stern gun and other pieces, painted gray and carried a funnel which did not parallel the masts. She did not signal to Suruga, Captain Nicoll said, and he did not learn her identity.

While at Havre, Captain Nicoll met the master of the American steamship, City of Paris, New York to Havre with cotton who told him of an experience with a submarine off the Solly islands on Jan. 30. The U-boat sent a shot across the American's deck as a signal to stop and the American after obeying sent a mate aboard the submarine with the merchantman's papers. The U-boat captain was quoted as telling the City of Memphis mate: "You've got a contraband cargo. I ought to sink your ship but on account of friendly relations between the United States and Germany I'm going to let you go."

Another American vessel beside the Suruga passed safely through the German submarine zone and arrived here today—the Virginian, which left Marseilles on Feb. 21. Both ships sailed in ballast.

PITCHED AGAINST TREE IN RUNAWAY, DRIVER'S SHOULDER DISLOCATED

A horse hitched to a wagon ran away at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon dashing through the square and north in Hudson avenue, the horse running onto the pavement in front of the office of Dr. U. K. Essington, breaking loose from the wagon and throwing the driver, William Selby, 35 Madison street, against a tree and out to the pavement. The young man was taken into Dr. Essington's office where it was found his right shoulder was dislocated and his face badly scratched and bruised.

IMPORTANT THAT VOTERS READ THIS

CHARTER AND CHARTER COMMISSION ELECTION TUESDAY, MARCH 13.

The election next Tuesday, March 13th, has nothing to do with determining what kind of a City Government Newark is to have or select. It is merely to elect Commissioners to frame a Charter, to prepare a Form of Government. If these Commissioners are elected, they will prepare a form of Government which will be submitted to the voters of the City for their approval about the 1st of June. It can be adopted or rejected by the voters.
Give the thing a start by voting in favor of the selection of this Commission of fifteen. It is bound to be a good thing for Newark. THINGS COULDN'T BE WORSE. Vote for the Charter Commission.

LIEUT. PARKER NOT PLEASED WITH THE MILITARY SYSTEM

The reception given at G. A. R. Hall last evening to Newark's soldiers from the Mexican border was a decided success and full of interest from start to finish.

The hall was well filled with representative people of Newark. The guests of honor were: First Lieutenant Chalmers M. Parker, Sergeant Harold F. Wilson, Corporal Frances W. Leah, Leland C. Stevenson, Francis E. McPeck, Marion E. Williams, George E. Drake, Bugler, Fred Bowers, Bugler. All of Co. G. Fourth O. Infantry, and Fred Verheyen of Co. M. Fourth Ohio Infantry, and Medal of Honor Man Beasley late of U. S. navy who won a medal from congress for skill and bravery at Vera Cruz, Mexico.

The out of town men were not present. Those named above answered "here" as Sergeant Wilson called the roll. George Bausch was reported sick at U. S. Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., and improving. Corporal Ivan Green of Co. D, Eighth Ohio Infantry, reported as on the way to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Reported absent: Sergt. Ernest L. Nateley, Stanton A. King, Eugene Mager, and Raymond E. Daniels. As the roll was called the ten present took their places in line in front of the commander's station. Each one as he arose was cheered. The audience then passed in line, all extending individual welcome home.

Mayor Bigbee expressed the city's welcome and F. L. Beggs, President of the Chamber of Commerce delivered a fine address of welcome for that body and Licking County. Lieut. Parker responded for himself and comrades in a vigorous arraignment of the weak military system that leaves the nation at the mercy of any strong nation that can land on American shores. He was followed by Ray Martin and Chas. W. Montgomery in strong and eloquent addresses. O. E. Hunt extended a warm welcome for Lemert Post, G. A. R. Mrs. McDermott, past president Woman's Relief Corps extended a hearty welcome for that body, as did Mrs. Kunkler for the Daughters of Veterans and Col. Cliff H. Rosebraugh represented the Spanish American War Veterans and sang effectively a Soldiers Song of Home, which was well received.

Interesting talks were made by Leland Stevenson, Sergt. Harold F. Wilson and Corporal Francis W. Leah. Major F. G. Steele, chairman of the occasion extended the welcome of the Citizen Legion under whose auspices the reception was given.

Miss Abbie Metz presided at the piano just right. The Daughters of Veterans served refreshments. That service was fully appreciated. Rev. D. A. Greene, father of Corporal Ivan Green pronounced the benediction.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, March 9.—"In times of old," the Roman poet tells us, the winners of the great athletic events, such as the chariot races, were exalted to the gods as masters of the earth, but even then the ivy wreath, reward of learned brows, was held in honor," writes W. H. Johnson, the Latin professor, in describing today's events in Granville, when Denison is to have a taste of both. The last home game of basketball will be played at 7 o'clock this evening in Cleveland hall, followed immediately afterward by the Beta Kappa oration in Recital hall at 8:30. These dates are unfortunately close together, but the orator of the evening, Professor Phelps of Yale University, writes that nothing will please him better than to see the game himself and deliver his oration after it is over. "Culture and Happiness" is his subject. There will be no charge for admission. The oration will be preceded by a brief exercise of formal admission to the new members, who recently have been elected.

The annual dinner to the members of the Denison society of Phi Beta Kappa, will be given this evening at the home of its president, Dr. Richard Colwell in South Prospect street at 8:30.

The Denison Glee club left yesterday for a concert tour, including Monroeville, where they sang Thursday evening; Striker, where they are to sing tonight, and Toledo on Saturday evening. In the last named city the club will sing in the Ashland Avenue Baptist church on Sunday. John Walker Hundley is leader and H. C. Chandler business manager. The merit of their work is said to be superior, by those who have heard the rehearsals.

Miss Geneva Love was in Granville yesterday, the guest at luncheon of Miss Howland.

A pretty home wedding was an event of last night. The bride, about three miles from Granville, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hutchinson, when their daughter, Miss Anna Hutchinson was united in marriage to Mr. John C. Hutchinson, of McDonald, Pennsylvania. The wedding breakfast was served from linen used at the weddings of both the mother and the grandmother of the bride, and from china decorated by herself. Her going away costume was green broad cloth, with hat of gold cloth. After March 20 Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson will be at home to their friends on a farm near McDonald, Pa.

Mrs. Clara M. Orden was elected president of the Licking County Equal Suffrage Association at the annual meeting held in Newark yesterday.

A regular meeting of Center Star Lodge, F. & A. M. was held last night, with work in all degrees.

Eastern Star will meet this evening at 7:30.

Miss Elizabeth Morris has been spending several days visiting friends in Columbus.

Denison will play Wooster tonight in the closing game of the basket

The Magic of Spring Has Created This Display of Likable Garments

—Dame Nature has been busy on her new Spring Dress. Soon her somber winter robe will be cast aside. On her magic loom she has woven a fabric of flowers and verdure to deck herself for the balmy days to come. It's a glorious time of year—Spring—when Nature and all her creatures feel the stir of new life and the desire for new garb. It's the time, too, when the thoughts of women turn to wonderful new apparel—bright and cheerful looking apparel, in keeping with the spirit of the season.

And to satisfy your desire for the beautiful and the exclusive, we have assembled together an incomparable display of Suits, Coats, Frocks, Skirts, Waists, etc. The last word, yes, even the last thought is expressed to a degree that will win the stamp of approval from the most critical Style Arbiters. And, of course, every model maintains all the exclusiveness and originality that have always been such dominant factors in Davies' garments.

You're invited to come and pass your opinion. Arrange to spend a portion of your time, tomorrow, amidst the charm of these beautiful and refreshing styles.

MAN AND WIFE PRAISE TANLAC LANGASTER WOMAN TELLS WHAT IT DID FOR THEM SHE HAS GAINED 10 POUNDS

"I tried Tanlac because it helped my husband so much. I weighed only 100 pounds when I started. Now I weigh between 110 and 115 pounds. That means I have gained more than 10 pounds," said Mrs. William G. Hall, 721 North High street, Lancaster.

"I was nervous and had trouble with my stomach. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and I got so I didn't have any appetite. I was restless and couldn't sleep soundly. I would be awake for hours, and when I finally did get to sleep I didn't rest good. In the mornings I was as tired as when I went to bed. I'd get up with a dull heavy headache sometimes, and when I would bend over and raise up my head would throb, and I'd get dizzy. I felt tired and worn out all the time, and just dragged around."

"My husband has been taking Tanlac for some time and it had helped him so much that I decided to try it. I feel fine now. My appetite has come back, and I eat almost anything I want without feeling bad afterwards."

"That restless feeling has left me, and I can sleep fine at night and get up feeling rested. My husband and I feel that it's our duty to tell everybody about the good Tanlac has done for us, for we know that it will help others who don't feel right."

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in March or Face May Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use a fine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of ointment—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely. Advertisement.
